

NTN-SNR WELCOMES SPRING WITH ITS “SPRING PRO DAYS”

The good news just keeps getting better: from April 18 to 23, NTN-SNR is renewing the seasonal promotional program it launched in 2020. With the return of sunny spring days, the world leading automotive manufacturer’s “Spring Pro Days” offer on its line of accessory kits is more exceptional than ever.

Because poor quality auxiliary components can compromise engine performance, accessories must be carefully selected. These parts are crucial and demand the same level of expertise as any other. Original equipment manufacturer and trusted partner of major automakers, NTN-SNR markets a large line of timing and accessory belt kits, rollers, pulleys and belts covering nearly 98% of motor vehicles registered in Europe. The requisite expertise enables us to provide complete repair solutions to professionals – solutions that include accessory belts, tensioner rollers, idler rollers and the necessary hardware – all supplied in one package with a single part number to prevent any chance of misidentification.

To support automotive aftermarket professionals during a challenging public health crisis, NTN-SNR is launching a brand new flash promotion on this line. So during the five “Spring Pro Days” from April 19 to 23, they will be eligible to receive a special discount of 20%* (*recorded average in Europe) on all orders for NTN-SNR accessory kits.

To take advantage of this special offer, customers have two options: either visit the manufacturer’s e-shop or contact their usual NTN-SNR representative.
